ABOUTCARMEL COLLEGE FOR WOMEN

Carmel College of Arts, Science and Commerce for Women nestled at the foot of the hills in the village of Nuvem, Goa, has the distinction of being the first and only college for women in the state of Goa. The College is run by the sisters of the Apostolic Carmel congregation. The pioneers of this prestigious institution were Mother Theodosia A.C. the then Superior General of the congregation, Sr. Amabel A.C., the then superior of Fatima Convent, Margao and Monsignor Ronald Knox, the Internuncio.

Sr. Amabel felt the need to start a Women's College in Goa and she shared her desire with her friend Dona Thelma da Costa Lourenco of Margao, who herself was working extensively in the field of education for several years in Bombay. Dona Thelma donated 35 acres of land at Nuvem for erecting a college for women as it had been her deep longing to see Goan girls pursue higher education.

The college had begun with the Bachelor of Arts and Science programmes, but today it can boast of its expansion with Bachelor of Commerce (1987); post-graduate courses (2007) M.Com. with specialization in Management and Accountancy and M.A. in Psychology, M.Sc – Food Technology in 2017. The Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India has sanctioned Rs.2 crore "Infrastructure Grants" to the College under the Rashtriya Uchchatar Shiksha Abhiyan (RUSA).

We are proud to announce our collaboration with the National Institute of Oceanography (NIO) and Goa Chamber of Commerce & Industries (GCCCI). We have a tacit understanding with the Centre for Environmental Education (CEE). The College is Re- Accredited by NAAC with 'A' grade. It also has an ISO-9001-2015 certification.

The serene environment of Carmel College makes it an excellent place for study and reflection. It has a spacious and modern building with adequate facilities such as well-equipped laboratories and library, Wi-Fi internet, sports room cum gym, museum, botanical garden for study, games and recreation along with women's hostel and a large campus with scope for expansion. A State of-the-art sports infrastructure, complete with indoor stadium is a recent addition to our campus, awaiting to be inaugurated in to coming academic year. This will further hone the sporting talent of our young women who have already made a mark in the sports arena of our state

*We warmly welcome you in the new academic year

A warm welcome to our prestigious institution, Carmel College of arts science and commerce for women. Nestled between the greens of the Nuvem hills and situated conveniently along the Margao, Panaji highway, Carmel College has the distinction of being the first and only, college for women in the state of Goa. Started in the year 1964, the college has grown in distinction, strengthen with the struggles of the initial years but always supported with the blessings of the Almighty. As you enter our campus, you are welcomed by lush and green spacious campus with a caring environment that enhances holistic learning.

Our vision is to empower women with an education that will help them excel and become better version of themselves. Women's education is a great human resource and an important constituent if we have to develop as a nation. Shaping young impressionable minds to become their best self is our goal. Education should help a student increase their control over the decisions that affect their lives, family and the environment. We strive to do this in a safe, loving, and intellectually challenging milieu that give students the freedom to express themselves creatively and securely.

Our faculty is highly qualified, dynamic and multitalented and go beyond their classroom avatar to become mentors to their students. A relationship that not only teaches them the text book prescribed syllabus but to think critically, act rationally and relate empathetically. We encourage our students to have high expectations about themselves, their work, and behaviour and develop a relationship with their higher self and their God. There is a genuine sense of community between management, faculty, students and parents, which we are all proud of. Our students are the witnesses of our legacy. Reflected in our motto: Empowering women to serve and lead ...since 1964. Their performance at the university is outstanding which gives them a boost to excel at both national and international levels.

It is a joy to see the college growing in excellence not only in the field of academic and cultural activities but also to help students retain eternal values and enrich their lives with value based principles and a sense of purpose.

We look forward to the continued support and guidance of our stakeholders to take this institution to even greater heights.

M.Sc. FOOD TECHNOLOGY Programme

WHY FOOD TECHNOLOGY?

Food is the ingredient that binds people! Cuisines vary and tastes differ, but the prolongation of human life depends upon food. As palates develop and lifestyles change, food technologists work to meet the demands of a food-dependent society. Food scientists are also adept at ensuring that, where possible, nutritional adequacy of commercial foods is maintained without adversely affecting consumer needs and choices. Meeting the global requirements of food by way of food production in an increasingly diminishing land area with a disproportionately increasing population is another task that food technologists apply their knowledge and skills to. Food technologists are, thus, responsible for the research and development of new food and beverage products and also improving the quality of existing products. They are also accountable for the development or improvement of the processing, packaging, storage, and safety of food in line with government and industry standards.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Food scientists and technologists are versatile, interdisciplinary, and collaborative practitioners in a profession at the crossroads of scientific and technological developments. As the food system has drastically changed, from one centred around family food production on individual farms and home food preservation to the modern system of today, most people are not connected to their food nor are they familiar with agricultural production and food manufacturing designed for better food safety and quality. The Post Graduate (Degree) Department of Food Technology, set up in 2017, endeavours to develop professionals skilled at advancing the science of food. The objectives of M.Sc. (Food Technology) are as follows:

- ✓ Provide students with theoretical knowledge and practical abilities required to work in the food industry, research centres, and food-related national and international organizations.
- ✓ Contribute to a healthier population by imparting education and understanding of nutritional science.
- ✓ Develop confident and competent individuals, able to adapt to the changing fabric of society through their professional expertise and personal traits.

STUDENT LEARNING & KNOWLEDGE ENHANCEMENT OPPORTUNITIES

The Post Graduate (Degree) Department of Food Technology contributes to the professional growth of its students by way of industrial and organizational visits. In the 3 years since its inception, the Department has established links with and arranged for student visits within and outside the State to industries, some of which have been listed below.

- Palavi Agro Farms, Dhargal, Goa

Out-of-State visits to places such as the Wine Information Centre at Nasik introduced the students to vineyards, industrial alcoholic fermentation processes, grape, wine and fruit and vegetable export procedures, and national-level horticultural research environments.

The Students and faculty attendance at Seminars, Workshops, and Conferences such as the International Conference on “Current Approaches in Nutraceuticals and Food Technology for Diabetes Management” held at Periyar University Salem, Tamil Nadu, in January 2019, provided the students an opportunity to interact with knowledgeable and research-oriented individuals from across the globe. Students also presented their Research Papers at the National Seminar on “Combating Malnutrition through Dietary Diversification: Strategies and Challenges”, held in March 2020, in Goa.

The students of the Department also organized “Food Courts/Bazaars”, wherein they prepared and sold appetizers, main course meals, bakery and confectionery products, and desserts as they learnt the intricacies of costing, packaging and sale. Resource persons with industrial and academic experience were invited as Guest Lecturers to impart subject-specific knowledge to the students. The Department was also involved in the conduct and coordination of the 70th International Multidisciplinary Research Foundation’s Conference on Women Empowerment, Education & Social Sciences 2018 and the parallel International Conference on Management, Business, Economics & CSR 2018 held in March 2018.

FACULTY COMPETENCE AND OUT-REACH

The Department has research- and industry-oriented qualified teaching faculty, all of who meet the University requirements for Post-Graduate Studies. The versatile Teaching Staff of the Department contribute to the public dissemination of subject knowledge by way of print media articles and being Guest Speakers at Workshops, Seminars, Conferences, and Interactive Sessions organized by other Colleges, Industry and Organizations.
